Klaas indicated the watershed level HUC-10 is the best approach.

Eells discussed the challenges of the linear nature of watersheds in coordinating work.

Sanders discussed looking at the holistic impacts of the watershed approach in Story County. Sanders notes the plan is a great model, but wants to know how it can move forward.

Klaas noted the Cedar River watershed is an alternative model that involves major agency partners.

Brown Huber discussed a watershed approach that would combine four watersheds at the top of the South Skunk watershed in terms of water quality work so that results could be evidenced.

Sanders questioned the ability for the 28E agreement to be adjusted to include more areas.

Brown Huber noted that the current Squaw Creek Management Authority Board would need to adjust their bylaws.

Kindred asked if this would be an expansion or a new authority board.

Sanders noted that Prairie Rivers of Iowa that would serve as a foundation between the watersheds.

Eells noted that it would be stronger to function as one entity rather than keep the authorities separate.

Brown Huber noted that watershed management authority support would be needed to move forward.

Kindred stated that the board would need to look into prior funding to support this change and wanted to insure that thorough research was conducted before moving forward.

Sanders indicated support for the expansion of the authority board due to its unique structure, but wanted to make sure it was done right.
Foster wanted further investigation into the legal activity of expanding the authority board.

Sanders moved that Brown Huber and Harter should look into further details in regards to this to find a direction and options to adopt Keigley Branch into the authority board. Eells seconded. Motion passed.

Foster stated the board should vote to replace the vice chair, secretary, and treasurer position for the board.

Foster nominated Campbell to serve as vice chair. Campbell accepted the nomination.

Board opted to vote by unanimous consent. Eells seconded. Voting Campbell as vice chair passed.
